NICOLE GUILMARTIN

Event Strategy and Design.

Memories matter. They're what remain after party lights dim and guests depart. From backyards to ballrooms, I can guide you through your vision on how to create memories that last. Whether it's for a day, an evening, or a weekend-long celebration, I'll turn your event ideas into actions with my creative nature and connections to industry game-changers. Floral, food, design and site choice – let me create, while you celebrate...

From Galas to Get-togethers.

My larger-than-life events turn simple celebrations into striking “talk of the town” classics. And for more intimate milestones (think private chef dinners or special family gatherings), I try to add unexpected notions that go beyond basic to build memorable moments. A shopping plaza transformed into a hip art gallery. An experiential dining excursion in the mountains. A backyard glimmering with lights and rustic designs. What impact will your event have?

About Nicole.

I can easily pinpoint when my love of event planning began. I would turn the clock back to high school and my production of our Battle of the Bands to benefit the Twin Towers Orphan Fund. Today, I'm proud of my more than 11 years of experience working for industry A-listers, such as serving as co-producer of Create Boston, a festival blending local artists with amazing chefs. My celebrations stretch from Boston to New York and throughout New England.

Services.
